

Bonal International Reports Third Quarter and Nine Month Results

Return of Interest in Vibratory Stress Relief May Signal Economic Recovery of the Metalworking Industry

Royal Oak, Mich., February 9, 2010 – Bonal International, Inc. (OTC: BONL) announced a respectable upturn of 29 percent in revenue in the third fiscal quarter of 2010, ending Dec. 30, with $527,310 in sales. These sales represented an increase of 29 percent over the 2009 third quarter net revenue. Net Income and earnings per share were near breakeven, compared to a loss in the third quarter of last year.

“As the metalworking industry makes its comeback, domestic interest in reliable vibratory stress relief is again receiving attention,” said A. George Hebel, III, CEO and President of Bonal International. “Bonal continues to spur this interest by making new customers and displaying the cost, time, and quality benefits of using Meta-Lax Vibratory Stress Relief.”

Nine months revenue is up 5 percent over last year’s numbers to $1,434,749. Purchase incentive discounts have helped Bonal retain level sales and maintain a stream of new customers, but have impacted earnings, which are down 37 percent from the first nine months last year.
